The Spanish title of our convening "Un manantial entre dos aguas," takes inspiration from the celebrated 1976 song "Entre dos aguas" by the musician, composer, and flamenco guitar virtuoso, Paco de Lucía. The convening is dedicated to the memory of Cordobese artist Pepe Espaliú (1955–1993).

All our venues and locations are publicly accessible, and all our events are free. No registration is required. Please bring water, weather-sensitive apparel, and suitable footwear for all outdoor events. All events are in Spanish with simultaneous translation into English.
